

This black cat is my family's cat named Lou. After the very sad passing of our cat Sunny we felt that we needed a cat to give our other grey cat velvet a friend and hopefully help our hearts heal. So we went to the humane society and my mom saw this cute little fluffball with a 2 foot long tail. After looking around we came back a few days later or possibly the next day later to get him. Velvet started by hissing alot at him well he just sat there after a while they became best friends and now Velvet is his big sister. Now he may be bad sometimes but that comes with all cats. As long as his sister stops teaching him tricks! He may be a little skittish, a little crazy, a little weird, but we still love him!
